

Independent financial services tailored to fit your business model

Sven Berggreen, Director Sales, Moventum

Moventum S.C.A. is a full service fund platform specialised in supporting independent financial advisors and institutional clients with the technology, tools and resources they need in order to deliver state of the art investment advice and first class investor service.

Moventum operations provide financial institutions and independent financial advisors (IFAs) with a technology platform that seamlessly integrates front office tools and back office systems to enable straight through business processing of mutual fund transactions. Our unique back office infrastructure provides customers with a consolidated statement of account holdings and IFAs with an aggregation of customer relations as well as settlement, clearing, record keeping and online account look up.

Moventum established a branch office in Germany in 2002 and Austria in 2008. Through these distribution agencies, Moventum actively markets its front office services, recruiting IFAs and training them the use of new office technologies and the marketing of investment products in Germany and Austria. In addition, Moventum focuses on new business initiatives on developing alliances with other financial institutions in a number of other countries that wish to support their brokers with an infrastructure that allows them to offer investment products to their clients. As a vendor of financial services to multiple organisations, Moventum creates economies of scale in its back office function, provides multiple product client statements (including country specific tax statements) and supports internet-based communications for its front office functions.
